Only Salvation for College Athletics is to Do Away With Gate Receipts, Says Linton

Make All Contests Free and Eliminate the Mercenary Idea of Prominent Educator—Bill Luby Coming to Texas.

CONSIDERABLE interest and discussion has been aroused by a statement from a prominent educator, Prof. Edwin Linton, chairman of the Washington and Jefferson faculty committee on athletics. Dr. Linton believes that the free game for all athletic events is the only salvation for college sport. He believes that intercollegiate athletics have reached a plane where love of sport for sport's sake has been made subservient to commercialism, and that in most instances big athletic contests between rival institutions are arranged primarily with a view to securing the greatest possible revenue.

The Pennsylvania educator alleges that colleges and universities are gradually usurping the place of athletic associations in exploiting the game of athletics and providing public spectacles, which are not only a lie on the original purpose of institutions of learning but demonstrably subversive of that purpose.

"I see no hope of removing the stigma of commercialism from intercollegiate athletics except by a total abolition of all gate receipts from intercollegiate athletic events," Dr. Linton's remarks are considered unusually radical as they follow an announcement that the Washington and Jefferson football teams lost money on the season just closed. But Dr. Linton maintains that the legitimate expenses of purely amateur sports properly conducted games could and would be met by popular voluntary subscriptions by those who loved sport for the sport itself and not for the money that was in it.

While there may be a good deal of truth in some of the things that the professor says, it remains to be seen if popular subscription could or would meet the athletic team's expenses. The money made by the teams of the big colleges returns to the advantages of the athletes in better gymnasium equipment and in many other ways. It does things for the advancement of the participants in athletic sports. It may be true that the admission fees prevents some lovers of the game from attending these events, and that admission fees should be confined to purely professional athletics.

Hank O'Day, as a club leader, will be watched with more than ordinary interest by the players of the early birds that will be possible for them to say what they think of him without being put out of the game.

Billy Luby, the heavy hitting minor league outfielder, will join the New York Giants and accompany the early birds that leave little old New York for Marlin in February. Luby is a big fellow, 6 feet 1-2 inches tall and tips the beam at 200 pounds. He started his baseball career as a pitcher, but now plays in the outfield. It was rumored that Billy Luby wanted to join the Boston Braves, but his decision to hold Mike Donlin is probably responsible for McGraw's getting Luby.

The two great pitching "finds" of 1911 are holdouts for 1912, and may not be seen at all on the diamond this year. They are Dean Gregg, of Cleveland and Grover Cleveland Alexander, of Philadelphia. Each demands a $25,000 salary, and so far the managers have not come across. Last season Gregg won 22 games and lost only 7. Alexander won 24 and lost 12.

Jake Stahl, of the Boston Red Sox, and Jimmy Callahan, of the Chicago White Sox, have started training for the 1912 baseball season earlier than the men they will attempt to lead to victory next season. Both of these celebrities in the national pastime are Chicagoans and will do their preliminary training at home. Jake says he needs more training than Callahan does to get down to weight. The use of the University Chicago gymnasium has been offered the giant leader of the Red Sox, and he will take advantage of odd hours snatched from handling gold and silver in his bank, to amble

PREPARATORY WORK TO START AT ONCE BASKETBALL TIE IS HARD TO BREAK

Athletes of the "Y" Get Into Shape For Track Events. Two Additional Five Minute Periods Required to Pick Winners.

Indoor athletic work as a preparation for the annual track and field meets will begin at the "Y" immediately. In addition to the Southwestern amateur athletic federation meet, which comes off at Mesilla park, May 4, and the Grammar school athletic league competition meet, the several classes in the "Y" will have competition meets as part of the indoor athletics at the "Y."

The following events will be conducted for: Running high jump, running broad jump, standing broad jump, pole vault, bar vault, snap under for distance, running high dive, high kick, 155 yard pursuit race, 120 yard potato race.

At these indoor record meets the man holding the record for each event will be given the regular athletic button. The records made at the meet will be permanent records until broken. In addition, the one winning the greatest number of points in all events will be given a monogram button of superior value.

The athletes to participate in the federation competition will be selected from the showing made at the "Y" competitive meet.

Beginning with January 1, each member of the "Y" will receive a calendar month of regular attendance at the gymnasium work will receive an international association "Y" button, which will be a sort of progressive award. The first one being replaced by a button of increasing value, according to the regularity of the attendance.

The highest button is a very pretty engraved one of silver.

The annual Distinguished Bro's' circus will be staged at the "Y" on March 15 and 16, and a part of the athletic indoor work will be in preparation for that event. With the coming of milder weather the track team will be out for regular morning sprints.

On account of the approaching departure of the physical director, Robinson, the physical department of the "Y" is being reorganized. C. H. Brown will be acting assistant for the boys' classes and Will Stevenson as voluntary assistant with the other classes. The leaders' corps will be reorganized.

CAVALRY WINS FROM THE YELLOWJACKETS

The 4th cavalry's swift polo team continued its winning streak in the polo game with the "Yellowjackets" of the Toledo club Sunday afternoon. The cavalry won with a score of nine against the "Yellowjackets" two.

Both the Toledo's scores were made in the last period of play.

This is the last game the old line polo of the cavalry will play at Fort Bliss, as Lieut. Hall, Lyman and Cook are members of the troops which are ordered to proceed to Fort Huachuca. Lieut. Hall will be the first to play at the post, and his first game will be played next Sunday. The "Yellowjackets" will lose one of their best players, Lieut. Thum, of the 2nd Infantry, who will leave shortly with the regiment for Fort Benjamin Harrison.

The lineups of the two teams in Sunday's game were: Fourth cavalry—Lieut. Hall, Lyman, Culham, and Sergt. DeHaven. On the "Yellowjackets" team were: Lieut. Thum, C. E. Beers, J. Wadlington and Thomas.

MANY POLO PONIES ARE SOLD BY MIDLAND BREEDERS.

Midland, Tex., Jan. 8.—A number of eastern polo pony buyers have been in Midland during the past month making purchases of high class ponies. Over 20 ponies have been shipped from Midland to various parts of the country, the prices ranging from $500 up to $1,000.

Prominent among these purchasers were S. R. Velle, president of an automobile company in Kansas City; J. C. Rathbone, of New Orleans; Richard Warrick, New York City, and Col. Traft, of Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio.

ONLY ONE FIGHT ALLOWED JOHNSON

He May Fight Once Before Meeting Flynn, but No More.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 8.—Jack Johnson probably will fight a 10 round battle with some one before May 1, after which he must engage in no more contests until he has met Jim Flynn, according to the articles of agreement signed here last Saturday. Just what the negro champion's opponent in the short fight will be is not known. He has several offers under consideration.

"I think it will be good practice for me to mix with some good strong fighter for 10 rounds before I meet Flynn," said Johnson today. "And then—here Johnson gazed admiringly at his big racing machine.

MAJ. M. B. DAVIS IS MAN OF LEISURE

Assistant Superintendent of Wells Fargo Goes on Pension List.

Maj. M. B. Davis, for 15 years assistant superintendent of the Wells Fargo Express company in El Paso, has, at his own request, been placed on the retired list and will draw a substantial pension the rest of his life.

Like the Southern Pacific railroad and many other big concerns, the Wells Fargo Express has inaugurated the pension system for employees who have remained for years in its service. The pension of Maj. Davis is one of the largest yet granted by the company.

Maj. Davis had been 47 years in the employ of the Wells Fargo, 30 of which he spent in El Paso. He was appointed a messenger in the service in San Francisco 41 years ago, and in February, 1882, he was sent to El Paso as agent. About 15 years ago, he was made assistant superintendent of the division and his headquarters remained at El Paso. Recently he asked to be retired on a pension and this was granted. He will remain in El Paso and will devote his time this spring and summer to building on property which he owns in the city.

The position which Maj. Davis occupies will not be filled again. The district of which he was formerly assistant superintendent has now been cut into several smaller districts, with a superintendent in charge of each and no assistants. Maj. Davis was offered a superintendency, but wished to retire from active service.

TWO ARRESTS FOLLOW FIRE IN MIAMI STORE

Miami, Ariz., Jan. 8.—Morris Cohen and W. L. Lohr have been arrested in connection with a fire in the Fair Clothing company building on Christmas night. This was probably one of the most peculiar fires that has ever occurred in Arizona, inasmuch as the ground underneath the building and the snow directly in the rear of the building seemed to be on fire when the firemen arrived on the scene.

Tom Gee has moved his cereal and hay, grain and feed business from Railroad avenue to the corner of Live Oaks street and Miami avenue.
